A Word from Pastor Trump

Dear Friends in Christ,

It gives me great sadness to tell you that until further notice we will not be able to hold worship services onsite, or gather in person for other activities at St. Andrew's. In the meantime, your church is working hard to stay connected to all and seeking ways to minister in spite of the difficulties and physical distance. Please see Deacon Holland's article inside sharing the many ways that we're learning to stay faithfully in community!

While we're unable to gather:

- If you have computer and email access, please check your email regularly for announcements and opportunities to stay engaged with our church family and others;
- We will continue to send out worship videos. Watch and worship by yourself, or with those in your household every Sunday;
- We will send one more audio recording of Holden Evening Prayer on Wednesday, April 1 featuring a homily from Dr. Brent Driggers; we will also be sending out worship services for Maundy Thursday and Good Friday.
- Please email the worship services to others who may need and desire them. This is a great way to tell people about your church and minister to those who may not have a faith community in this time of crisis;
- Contact Pastor Trump (920-2722) or Deacon Holland (269-9659) or any of the staff with important notices, news, or questions;
- Contact other members to make sure that they are ok. Reach out to friends and neighbors;
- Please continue to remember your church with your financial gifts;
- Pray.

We will notify everyone once worship in our sanctuary resumes. And what a joyous day that will be!

How to remain faithful stewards while we are not able to meet?

During these hard times it is so important that we stay connected, especially with those in our faith community. The other day the youth connected for a little "party" through Zoom and were laughing as I could not figure out why my speaker wasn't working, and they could not hear me. Well, maybe they didn't want to hear me! Or, there was the woman who used to get regular visits from family in her nursing facility who now gets none. The phone calls from the church are a lifeline. These are crazy economic times as well. There are many people who are experiencing financial difficulties due to the loss of a job or other things caused by this outbreak. During times like this often churches and others tend to panic and send out messages that reflect this attitude. Churches forget that God has provided in the past and will do so again. We fail to see the opportunities before us even in these anxious days. What are some of the ways we can be most faithful right now, not because your church desperately needs you but because you can be strengthened in your faith journey and relationship with God through and with God's church? The people of Israel were shaped by God during their desert journey. Jesus was molded in the desert.

The church encourages electronic automatic giving. When you sign up for this it is a way of showing your trust and faithfulness to the ministry of Christ in this place. It is a way of making your thanksgiving through giving a priority. “You can set your giving up electronically.

You simply email Judy at treasurer@salutheran.com to do so. Or, you can contact your financial institution and set it up through them which keeps you in total control. Of course, anyone can also use checks and the postal system to support the church. Remember that if your financial situation is altered by what our country and world is experiencing no one expects your giving to not be affected as well.

This is the time to reach out to those who are the most impacted by the virus. Who are the most vulnerable among us? Who is in need? Is there something you can do, or we can do as a church? God is faithful and as Paul reminds us “nothing can separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.” Let us be faithful too. For the month of April Beth and I will be giving an extra gift to the church to help out in this time of need, especially in light of the reality that others may have had their resources cut. Maybe you can as well?

Worship for Holy Week

If you are not able to access a computer or receive the audio or video worship services we are providing, below are some “worship guides” for you to use this Holy Week.

Maundy Thursday:

Prayer of the Day

Holy God, source of all love, on the night of his betrayal, Jesus gave us a new commandment, to love one another as he loves us. Write this commandment in our hearts, and give us the will to serve others as he was the servant of all, your Son, Jesus Christ, our Savior and Lord, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever.

Amen.

Exodus 12:1-4 -11-14

¹The LORD said to Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt: ²This month shall mark for you the beginning of months; it shall be the first month of the year for you. ³Tell the whole congregation of Israel that on the tenth of this month they are to take a lamb for each family, a lamb for each household. ⁴If a household is too small for a whole lamb, it shall join its closest neighbor in obtaining one; the lamb shall be divided in proportion to the number of people who eat of it. ¹¹This is how you shall eat it: your loins girded, your sandals on your feet, and your staff in your hand; and you shall eat it hurriedly. It is the Passover of the LORD. ¹²For I will pass through the land of Egypt that night, and I will strike down every firstborn in the land of Egypt, both human beings and animals; on all the gods of Egypt I will execute judgments: I am the LORD. ¹³The blood shall be a sign for you on the houses where you live: when I see the blood, I will pass over you, and no plague shall destroy you when I strike the land of Egypt. ¹⁴This day shall be a day of remembrance for you. You shall celebrate it as a festival to the LORD; throughout your generations you shall observe it as a perpetual ordinance.

John 13:1-17, 31b-35

¹Now before the festival of the Passover, Jesus knew that his hour had come to depart from this world and go to the Father. Having loved his own who were in the world, he loved them to the end. ²The devil had already put it into the heart of Judas son of Simon Iscariot to betray him. And during supper ³Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he had come from God and was going to God, ⁴got up from the table, took off his outer robe, and tied a towel around himself. ⁵Then he poured water into a basin and began to wash the disciples' feet and to wipe them with the towel that was tied around him. ⁶He came to Simon Peter, who said to him, “Lord, are you going to wash my feet?” ⁷Jesus answered, “You do not know now what I am doing, but later you will understand.” ⁸Peter said to him, “You will never wash my feet.” Jesus answered,

“Unless I wash you, you have no share with me.” ⁹Simon Peter said to him, “Lord, not my feet only but also my hands and my head!” ¹⁰Jesus said to him, “One who has bathed does not need to wash, except for the feet, but is entirely clean. And you are clean, though not all of you.” ¹¹For he knew who was to betray him; for this reason he said, “Not all of you are clean.”

¹²After he had washed their feet, had put on his robe, and had returned to the table, he said to them, “Do you know what I have done to you? ¹³You call me Teacher and Lord—and you are right, for that is what I am. ¹⁴So if I, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another’s feet. ¹⁵For I have set you an example, that you also should do as I have done to you. ¹⁶Very truly, I tell you, servants are not greater than their master, nor are messengers greater than the one who sent them. ¹⁷If you know these things, you are blessed if you do them.”

^{31b}“Now the Son of Man has been glorified, and God has been glorified in him. ³²If God has been glorified in him, God will also glorify him in himself and will glorify him at once. ³³Little children, I am with you only a little longer. You will look for me; and as I said to the Jews so now I say to you, ‘Where I am going, you cannot come.’ ³⁴I give you a new commandment, that you love one another. Just as I have loved you, you also should love one another. ³⁵By this everyone will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another.”

Reflection:

What does it mean to wash another person’s feet? I told the story before, but it is worth repeating about a doctor who volunteered to serve with the homeless at a medical outreach facility. He was incredibly qualified, fresh out of residency, and as he said, fairly proud of himself. How shocked was he when the first thing the experienced nurse told him to do was to grab a basin and wash the feet of the people arriving for care? Wash feet? But I’m a doctor? What a waste of my skills! How quickly the doctor realized otherwise. It was what he need to do, not only because of all the foot problems this population experiences but because it humbled him and helped him to understand what it means to truly serve. Christ modeled this kind of service and love for his disciples and for the world. We are clearly called to wash one another’s feet in any way that we can. We cannot gather together this week, but undoubtedly there are ways that we can find to care for one another, even from six feet away. The truly good news is that which Peter helps us see, in his bold way. We have been washed in baptism by Christ. We have been made “clean” in his grace and mercy. We have been made whole, this holy week.

Good Friday:

Prayer of the Day

Almighty God, look with loving mercy on your family, for whom our Lord Jesus Christ was willing to be betrayed, to be given over to the hands of sinners, and to suffer death on the cross; who now lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, forever and ever.

Amen.

Isaiah 53:4-6 (please consider reading the whole passage, Isaiah 52:13- 53:12)

⁴Surely he has borne our infirmities and carried our diseases; yet we accounted him stricken, struck down by God, and afflicted. ⁵But he was wounded for our transgressions, crushed for our iniquities; upon him was the punishment that made us whole, and by his bruises we are healed. ⁶All we like sheep have gone astray; we have all turned to our own way, and the LORD has laid on him the iniquity of us all.

John 19:16- 30 (Please consider reading the whole passage John 18:1--19:42)

So they took Jesus; ¹⁷and carrying the cross by himself, he went out to what is called The Place of the Skull, which in Hebrew is called Golgotha. ¹⁸There they crucified him, and with him two others, one on either side, with Jesus between them. ¹⁹Pilate also had an inscription written and put on the cross. It read, “Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews.”²⁰ Many of the Jews read this inscription, because the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city; and it was written in Hebrew, in Latin, and in Greek. ²¹Then the chief priests of the Jews said to Pilate, “Do not write, ‘The King of the Jews,’ but, ‘This man said, I am King of the Jews.’” ²²Pilate answered, “What I have written I have written.” ²³When the soldiers had crucified Jesus, they took his clothes and divided them into four parts, one for each soldier. They also took his tunic; now the tunic was seamless, woven in one piece from the top. ²⁴So they said to one another, “Let us not tear it, but cast lots for it to see who will get it.” This was to fulfill what the scripture says, “They divided my clothes among themselves, and for my clothing they cast lots.”²⁵ And that is what the soldiers did.

Meanwhile, standing near the cross of Jesus were his mother, and his mother’s sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. ²⁶When Jesus saw his mother and the disciple whom he loved standing beside her, he said to his mother, “Woman, here is your son.” ²⁷Then he said to the disciple, “Here is your mother.” And from that hour the disciple took her into his own home.

²⁸After this, when Jesus knew that all was now finished, he said (in order to fulfill the scripture), “I am thirsty.” ²⁹A jar full of sour wine was standing there. So they put a sponge full of the wine on a branch of hyssop and held it to his mouth. ³⁰When Jesus had received the wine, he said, “It is finished.” Then he bowed his head and gave up his spirit.

Reflection:

Many years ago, at Grace Lutheran Church, I was sitting with my mother and next to her was another woman from the congregation. She was alone. Each Good Friday we used the “Service of Tenebrae” which included the seven last words of Christ from the cross with seven hymns as the church gradually grew dark. It was a moving service. I was surprised when during the course of the service the woman next to my mother started sobbing. Why was she crying? Why now? At home later that evening I asked my mother. She explained that this woman was going through a divorce and was in a great deal of emotional pain. She was hurting. I realized that as she heard the story of Christ’s pain and suffering it resonated with her own. It connected with her own sorrow. She was sharing in his suffering, just as on the cross Christ shares in all suffering and all sorrow. You may indeed lay your sorrow, sin, guilt, or shame at the foot of the cross. He understands. And Easter? Easter is the promise that grief and hurt and sin and pain are never the final word. God has the final word, and it is life.

O SACRED HEAD, verse 2 & 3 How pale thou art with anguish, with sore abuse and scorn;
how does thy face now languish,
which once was bright as morn!
Thy grief and bitter passion
were all for sinners’ gain;
mine, mine was the transgression,
but thine the deadly pain.

What language shall I borrow to thank thee, dearest friend,
for this thy dying sorrow,
thy pity without end?
Oh, make me thine forever,
and should I fainting be,
Lord, let me never, never outlive my love to thee.

What is Zoom?

Although the church building has been closed for the last couple of Sundays, God is still very much at work through the people of St. Andrew's. We have been using a digital tool called Zoom to gather people together across the miles. See the picture here with the boxes reminiscent of The Brady Bunch? This is a way to gather people who are not in the same room with each other. Everyone can hear and see each other, and it makes it easy to keep in touch.

We have used Zoom in the past week for the Ladies Book Club meeting, Church Council, Youth Group, High School Girls group meeting, Children's Pajama Party, and church staff meeting. People connect to the group using a computer, tablet, or smart phone. You could even join in by audio using a regular phone, but there would be no video, obviously. If you would like for your church group to meet using Zoom, please contact Sandra Holland at 803-269-9659 and she can help you to arrange it. How wonderful that we have this technology to use for a time such as this!

Pajama Party Zoom

Youth Group Zoom

The following groups will continue to meet using Zoom:

Adult Sunday School classes – Grace Upon Grace Class (contact Sandra Holland).

Bible Study – Pastor Trump will lead a Zoom Bible Study at 6:00 p.m. beginning Wednesday, April 1.

Pajama Time with Church Friends - every Tuesday at 7:15 p.m.

Toddlers through 6th graders are invited to come together through Zoom for singing, stories, prayers and connecting with their church friends.

St. Andrew's Youth Group will meet every Sunday evening at 6:00 p.m. via Zoom. The Girls group and the Boys group will have other connection times as announced.

The Youth Sunday School class will meet weekly using Zoom. The time and link will be sent to the group.

Virginia Wingard Food Pantry

The Food Pantry at Virginia Wingard is open. They are taking bags to cars instead of having people come in the building. The food pantry's hours are Tuesday Wednesday, Thursday 1-3 p.m. and they serve people in 29201, 29203 and 29210 area codes. You have to show an ID to receive food. If you would like to donate food, please take food directly to Virginia Wingard and call 772-0794 before you go to make sure someone will be there.

A Message from our Deacon

I think we can all agree that there's never been a time in our lives quite like the last two weeks. It's hard to believe that this pandemic has affected and continues to effect people around the world. Many of you have changed your whole lives in a shift to work from home, teach your children at home and limit the time you gather with others. Sadly, some of you have had hours cut at your job or even lost employment entirely. Even our church has had to shift the ways we gather and worship as a community. I will admit that all last week, I wasn't doing particularly well. I was just sad. I was sad that people were getting sick and dying around the world and that it was beginning to hit closer to home. I was sad that there are so many unknowns. I was sad that lives were changing and that our dear faith community wouldn't be meeting in our building for worship, service to others, and fellowship. But then on Friday afternoon, I had an idea that maybe our book club which had originally been cancelled could perhaps gather by Zoom on Friday evening. I figured that even if just a couple of us showed up, it would be a success and would lift our spirits. Eleven women came and talked and laughed together and maybe even shed a tear or two. We talked about how we'd seen God at work in the last week and we talked about the scary days ahead. Some of the younger moms told us what it was like to try to homeschool their children while also working full time from home. Others in the group said that they were already a bit lonely and not doing well with the whole "social distancing" thing. This gathering of friends reminded me once again that God is at work and will continue to be at work in all ways and at all times. I truly believe that God will use this terrible time to change us and help us grow in faith. We are all learning new ways to connect to each other and to look outside ourselves to see the needs in the world. I'm so thankful for our church community and can't wait for the day when we can worship inside our church walls together again. But, until then, I am going to try enjoy the way that God is stretching me and all of us to dig deep into our faith and find new ways to serve and is calling us to continue to gather in worship, prayer and fellowship in new ways.

Grace and peace,
Deacon Sandra

Book Club Zoom

Lenten Prayer Group

Deacon Sandra Holland will lead a virtual prayer group which will gather each Wednesday during Lent from 12:15-12:30 p.m. using the technology of an app called Zoom. The group won't be open until 12:10 on Wednesdays. If you would like for the group to pray for you, but are not interested in being a part of the weekly Zoom meeting, please email Sandra Holland at sholland@salutheran.com with your prayer requests. This is a way to use technology to increase our faith and bring us together across the miles. Won't you take a few minutes on your lunch hour to join the group in prayer?

A Message from our Director of Music Ministries

The last two weeks have brought changes to most of our lives that would have seemed unimaginable prior to March of 2020. Here at St. Andrew's Lutheran Church, we came to the stunning realization that we would be unable to gather for worship, service or fellowship for several weeks, and possibly longer. This community that offers sustenance, comfort, help to the needy, and balm for our souls, would be shutting its doors for an undetermined amount of time.

But, no—this community has gotten to its feet and found ways to carry on ministry even when we cannot gather. Volunteers have stepped up to call and check on others. The Lutheran Men blood drive stayed on schedule to provide much-needed blood, while many drives were being cancelled nationwide. Children, youth and adult groups have gone online to be able to support and sustain each other. And volunteer musicians and technicians have stepped up to help us make worship experiences available online.

I have watched the beginning of the March 22 worship service at least 5 times. The view of the cross with the purple fabric waving in the breeze and the empty pews inside tell a silent story of isolation and abandonment. But the worship that follows tells the story of hope—and it is told not just by Pastor, Deacon, and music director, but by the church members who trekked out in this time of doubt and uncertainty to sing, or film, or assist with sound. It is my prayer that as you participated, you felt the presence of Christ that we felt while preparing it.

With the help of many – and while practicing social distancing—we will continue to bring you worship opportunities until we can meet again face to face. Currently, weekly Sunday worship and Wednesday evening Holden Evening Prayer are emailed to you and are available on our website. We are actively working on creative ways to experience Holy Week. This is new to all of us—but what is not new is the power of Christ in our lives, and whether we are gathering physically or from afar, the blessing of our St. Andrew's community, stepping up to the plate and saying, "Here I am, Lord!"

Thanks be to God!

Jenny Walrath, Director of Music Ministries

Lutheran Men Blood Drive

The Lutheran Men of St. Andrew's would like to thank the 27 donors that gave blood in the midst of a national disaster and our congregation for supporting our blood drive. Our blood drive saved over 80 lives and it was our most successful blood drive in many years. The Red Cross was grateful for our continued support of their mission and we were grateful to help.

Council Highlights

Opening

Curtis Amick, chair, called the meeting to order at 7 p.m.

Council approved the minutes of the Feb. 13 Council meeting and Feb. 23 called Council meeting.

Council approved a changes to the agenda.

Deborah Slice shared a devotion.

Pastor's Report and Deacon's Report

The Pastor's report and Deacon's report were accepted as presented.

Team Reports

Executive: Council members discussed a draft motion prepared by the Executive Team, based on Finance Team recommendations and Council discussion in February, regarding the narthex renovation project and HVAC replacement/repair needs. Curtis suggested that there are yet too many variables associated with each project to recommend any specific course of action to the congregation, and he requested Council provide additional opportunities to introduce, inform, and engage the congregation in conversation about both projects before formal presentations are made. Curtis and Pastor Trump agreed to collaborate on an informational mailing that summarizes the two projects and priorities, clarifies questions some may have, explains funding proposals, and invites feedback. In the meantime, Council members will move forward with HVAC bid solicitation, seek clarity from the architect about a few details in the narthex design proposal, and continue to discuss project scope, timelines, and funding strategies with consultant Mike Ward.

A motion to authorize Curtis and Pastor Trump to review available information and create an informative letter to the congregation that will precede an informational meeting and "table talks" with members of the congregation during the Sunday school hour was seconded and passed by Council.

NOTE: The motion did include a presentation date of March 29, but because of the necessary cancellation of church services and activities, the presentation and conversations will be postponed.

Finance: Tom Henry reported that the church's insurance company has increased premium payments, and suggested we increase deductibles to reduce the new payment amount. Council passed a motion to adopt a $2,500 deductible for 2020 to save $1,035 annually.

Unfinished Business

Council approved a motion to supplement grant monies already received with up to $4,200 from savings as needed to fully fund the summer 2020 Dramarama program.

Council reached a consensus to continue to schedule and conduct Council meetings as is the current practice.

New Business

Deborah Slice and Beth Mullins volunteered to attend the 2020 S.C. Synod Assembly as lay voting members; Pastor Trump and Deacon Holland also will attend. Pastor Trump will ask someone from the congregation to attend as well.

Pastor Trump adjourned with prayer concerns.

Reminders:

Collections for March: Tom Bane, Mari Frye, Beth Mullins

Next regular meeting: Thursday, April 16
